M-72 Rail-Crossing To Be Fixed

by Joe Schrader

Fred Eggen of Alpena, Area Manager for the Dept. of State Highways indicated to the Avalanche last week that improvements are being planned for the railroad crossing area on M-72 West.

Although Eggen could not be specific about a timetable, he did indicate that a late summer or early fall work date looked likely.

The work on the tracks, Eggen said, will be similar to the work done south of town on the I-75 Business Loop and will be done in conjunction with the railroad company. Bids are expected to be let about September 1st.

Highway officials reported that one or two of the existing tracks may be removed during the project.

Michael Cavanaugh, 20, died in the emergency room of Mercy Hospital following the crash and another unidentified passenger is being treated now at Mercy Hospital.

Van Gets "Dunk Job" in AuSable

A van parked behind Grayling's Mercy Hospital got a premature washing job when the parking brake apparently disengaged and the truck plunged headlong into the waters of the AuSable River last Friday.

It's no wonder trout vanished when local fishermen cast their lines on the trout-famous local stream!

Quick Police and Fire Dept. Response Prevents Disaster

by Joe Schrader

Quick work by the City Police, the volunteer fire dept. and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. prevented a possible disaster at a home on Maple St. last Saturday night. City Police Chief Pete Stephan said that a blocked chimney at the Robert Cinciala home on 208 Maple St. allowed a backup of fumes to enter the building, affecting Mrs. Cinciala and their children, Scott and Diane.

existing, Cinciala summoned the city police and fire dept. officials who quickly responded to the scene. Mrs. Cinciala and her two children were treated at Mercy Hospital and held overnight for observation.

Police Chief Stephan indicated that, were it not for emergency assistance provided by Howard Moggo, who was on the scene, helping to evacuate the residents from the building, a real disaster might have occurred.

The Sexually Abused Child

by Dennis C. Rau

Editors Note: This is the 4th in a series of articles written on child abuse and neglect.

In Crawford County, the Department of Social Services has investigated approximately four alleged sexual abuse situations within the past year, two of which have been substantiated. We feel that there most likely is more sexual abuse, occurring then we know about. Unfortunately many times these are not reported and therefore nothing is done to help the children or the abuser to correct the situation.

Why would someone abuse a child? The dynamics of that question are very difficult to answer. Traditionally the sexual abuse situation is between the father or stepfather and his daughter with the mother feels so insecure in the situation that she is not able to force her husband or boyfriend to stop either sexual intercourse or other sexually abusive relations with her daughter.

We will talk more in the next article about sexual abuse and its dynamics but first we are presenting a short questionnaire for you to determine your general knowledge of the sexual abuse situation. The true or false answers are located at the end of this article.

1. About 1 in 12 children are sexually abused or exploited by adults prior to the age of 16 according to self reports.

2. Sexual abuse of children is predominately by adult males exploiting female children as opposed to adult females exploiting male children.

3. In cases of incest, less than 12% of all children born of incestuous relationships have either physical or mental defects.

4. In a majority of cases the greatest stigma is attached to the sexually abused child, by peers and/or teachers, rather than to the abuser.

5. When a mother becomes aware that her child is being abused she will usually ask that the child be removed as opposed to punishing the abuser.

6. Permanent removal of the sexually abused child is the only realistic goal in sex abuse.

7. Most children who are sexually abused do something to bring on the event.

8. Multiple sexual abuse (i.e. father sexually abusing two or more daughters) is extremely rare.

9. In father-daughter sexual involvement the mother is usually unaware of the event.

10. Most sexual abusers of children are mentally ill or mentally retarded.

11. There is a direct relationship between sexual abuse and education and income. The higher the income and education, the less sex abuse.

12. Anthropologists have taught us that there is a

Bits O'Talk

by Fay Bovee

Congratulations to one of our local young people, Kevin Sloan, son of Col. and Mrs. Duane Sloan of Lake Margreth. Kevin is now a sophomore in the University of Michigan Dental School and has only been at the U of M four years, at which time it would be normal to just be graduating with his Bachelor's degree. He has been doing so well that he is fourth in the dental school class. His parents must be extremely proud of him.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Layman returned last week on Tuesday from their winter spent in Lake Havasu City, Arizona. They played a lot of golf even though they report that the weather was not all that good all the time.

Dr. and Mrs. B.E. Henig returned last week from their month's vacation. They spent part of the time in Hilton Head, N. Carolina, but also went to Atlanta, Ga., where he attended the Southeast Surgical Conference, and visited his brother and wife, Bill and Lee Henig and the Bill Henig's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Glen. They went on to Alabama to visit. While they were at Hilton Head, Tina spent a week with them, Gerald and Claudia Pielack spent two weeks, and Jackie Wickermeyer, of Bayonne N. Jersey, visited.

Mrs. Marge Hildebrand has returned to her home after spending the winter in Pennsylvania, New York, Washington, D.C., and Florida. In Florida she stayed with Ken and Ann Hildebrand at New Port Richey.

Mrs. Margaret Jensen and Mrs. Martha Austin were in Indian Head, Maryland, to visit Martha's daughter and husband, Jim and Sarah Sanderson. They were only 25 miles from Washington, D.C. so they went there sight-seeing and enjoyed the beautiful cherry blossoms. Margaret and Martha also went to Hampton and Williamsburg, Virginia, where they saw the gorgeous dogwood and azaleas in bloom.

Evelyn and Al Sager returned on Thursday, from their winter home under Arcadia, Florida.

Roach Shines In Practice

Allendale-Former Grayling High School star Will Roach, was busy racking up yardage for the blue team last Friday night, when the Grand Valley State Lakers held their annual Blue and White Spring Football game.

Roach picked up 173 yards in 27 runs, one of which was a 32 yard gain that got the blue team down inside the ten yardline of the whites. It appeared that Roach had set up the winning touchdown to break the 3-3 dead lock. But then the white team stiffened and held off the blues at the one yard line which ended the game in a 3-3 tie.

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1979—GRAYLING, MICHIGAN

From Our Corner ...

Mother Nature has to be kidding us...our weather in the last couple weeks has been unreal...last Monday we had two inches of snow on the ground in the morning...today (Monday) it was near 70 out...last Saturday we drove in a like March blizzard all the way to Traverse City, the storm left at least four inches of snow on the ground which was gone by mid-afternoon...all this when we are suppose to be having those May flowers blooming...we note this here only for the archives of the Avalanche; not for those who are wondering the same as we are...guess 1979 is no different than 1933 when they had a storm on May 9th as noted on page three in looking back.

We feel a bit melancholia tonight after we heard the start of the golf leagues will be in force Tuesday afternoon, and we won't be at the starting gate come Wednesday...the reason for the melancholia is because now the Wednesday league golfers will have no one to blame when it rains on their favorite golf day...really friends we throw away our rain dance uniform...if the drought comes it is all your fault.

Just a tid-bit...want to thank Marty Martinez for his generosity of seeing that the ol' fella had a helping of smelt this season...and the word is he didn't get home until 4:30 in the morning...that makes the smelt quite a premium.

We were saddened this past weekend by the deaths of Elmer Neal and Don Phillips...Elmer has lived all his life here in Grayling while Don has been a summer resident for many years...we knew them both, and will miss them.

Tonight's efforts is just about the same as it is in the mid of winter...then it is so dang cold we can't think...and right now it is so nice, the doors open, and all we can think of is trying to get home to the back yard with Muff before it winds up to dark out.

With that little tid bit, you all know we are groping.

If you happened to miss the front page, there's an article about the railroad crossing on M-72 west...with high hopes we look for a fall deadline to smooth out the ride by all you folks that live out west of the metropolis to enter our fair city without having your gold fillings dropping out...

Evidently everyone watches the ol' fella to see if he's on the ball...problem is, we normally come up with pie on our face...in last week's article about the Dial-A-Ride vote, we stated only 7 percent of the voters used their prerogative to cast a ballot...we again received a phone call from Tom Evans just back from Florida and doubting our mathematics...he stated if it was only 7% we had to have at least 19000 voters...like we stated, pie...last Monday night our friend Leo Lovely dropped off the returns of the election, and through conversation the big 7 came up...not true...it was nearly 14 percent that fought their way to the ballot booth...

Our friend out Lovells way, Bill Laurie, didn't check our mathematics...he has another letter in this issue...we called him Sunday to let him know we were changing his figures...no matter now what happened...Dial-A-Ride is here for at least another year.

If you didn't come in at intermission, you had to read our remarks about the storm we drove in going to TC last Saturday...we did relax once there, and spent the night with T.J. and Stef, and their folks...

Have a nice Mother's Day weekend...

NCC President Calls for Redistribution of Nation's Wealth

William Howard, recently elected president of the National Council of Churches, speaking at an annual prayer breakfast sponsored by California governor Jerry Brown, called for a redistribution of the wealth of the nation under a system worked out by church forums.

This is the same fellow who headed up the committee within the N.C.C. which recommended and directed thousands of dollars to support Communist Guerrillas overseas in the overthrow of their government. You remember this story as reported a few months ago in our column.

It appears to be the popular thing for religious liberals to do in this country; oppose Capitalism and Free Enterprise. Russia had 50 years under Communism with plenty of natural resources, isolation, dedication and information to succeed. Look at the U.S. 50 years ago, we were just starting economically. Today, the U.S. stands as the economic envy of the world. No country matches us in goods and services provided for our people.

They present problems faced by our economy were not caused primarily by the rugged individualists who built and perpetuated our system, but rather by those do-gooders who have led us under more and more socialistic government programs for the redistribution of our nation's wealth.

A leading evangelist while conducting a crusade in Las Vegas, refused to condemn the sinfulness of gambling there, because he felt the biggest gambling was taking place in Wallstreet. This statement may strike you as pious at first, but the implications are shocking.

Gambling and Capitalism are diametrically opposed upon proper analysis. Gambling shows lack of fiscal responsibility. Gambling is contrary to the work ethic of the Bible. Gambling gains are based on other's losses. It brings nothing positive into society. Gambling losses often lead to other crimes.

Capitalism requires a base of sacrificial labor. Since money is a tangible fruit of labor, someone must either sacrifice more time in labor to gain capital, or live a sacrificial life style to gain capital for investment. When one buys stock in a company he is investing accumulated labor in the future of that company. He is trusting his investment to assist the company in creating new jobs and providing goods and services which will benefit society. In the parable of the talents, Jesus clearly teaches us the basic principles of Capitalism. It is not wrong for a Christian to be a Capitalist. (adv.)

Brownie Troop 2143

As the end of the school year approaches, so does the end of scheduled Brownie meetings. We have many activities planned for our final month.

Six of our Brownies are "flying up" to Junior Girl Scouts. They are Jill Brackenbury, Anita Reddy, Amy Hough, Angie Larson, Shannon Lovely and Dawn Baker. These fly-ups, together with six girls from a Junior troop planned a swimming and pizza party May 1. We had a lot of fun and thank the Junior girls and their leaders, Doretta Adkins and Linda Stark.

May 5 the Brownie and their mothers courageously ventured on a sun rise hike in honor of Mothers Day. The experiences were unforgettable and we wish to extend a special thank you to those mothers who weathered the hike which began at 5:15 AM! The mothers and daughters who attended are Kathy Baker and daughter Dawn, Florence Hough and daughter Amy, Joyce Brackenbury and daughter Jill, Sharon Klingner and daughter Sheryl, Judy Marshall and daughter Leana and Barbara Lovely and her daughter Shannon.

May 8 the troop will be making Indian headbands and going on an "Indian hike". May 15 is visitor day. Each Brownie has been asked to bring a younger girl, 4 years old and up, who may someday become a Brownie herself.

May 22 is the troops last regularly scheduled meeting and a particularly special time for the leaders as we end our year with the girls. May 23 "Fly-up" ceremonies for all Crawford County Girl Scouts will be held at Joseph Stripe Auditorium. During this program girls will be awarded their badges and patches. Parents and friends are invited.

May 29 our troop will have their families together for a picnic at Hartwick Pines.

This will be our last newsletter for the year and we would like to use this space as a way to say thank you to the girls for being great Scouts. We will miss the six girls flying up to Juniors and wish them many wonderful experiences, lots of fun and the best in their future of Girl Scouting. We look forward to joining the rest of the Brownies again next year.

We thank the parents of these girls, who because of their support, made our year super.

And a big thank-you to both Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church for letting us use their facilities all year and to the Crawford County Avalanche for printing our news each month.

Needed: Some public sacrifice

RICHARD MILLIMAN

The subject that apparently never lacks for attention in the Congress of the United States is the relative compensation level of its members.

The subject has come up in recent weeks in both the House and the Senate. In the House, members considered a bill to increase from $3,000 to $9,000 the annual income tax deduction congressmen receive for living and entertaining expenses while in Washington.

In the Senate, members considered raising the limits of outside income (from speeches and articles and what-have-you) members are permitted to earn in addition to their senatorial salaries.

The merits of the particular issues are not the intended subject of this essay. Instead, the deliberations bring to mind the age-old question: What ever happened to the idea of public service?

In hearings on the House bill juggling income tax deductions, Rep. Wyche Fowler of Georgia tried to convince committee members such as increase was unacceptable.

"The public believes what we forget," Fowler said, "that is, that public service is public service, and that involves sacrifice."

But his views were not warmly received by the committee handling the bill. For example, Rep. Ken Holland of South Carolina proclaimed that he did his best for his constituents, but there was a limit: "I'm not their lackey," said Holland, "I'm not their lickspittle. I voted for every pay raise since I've been in Congress...and I'm proud of it." Quite a boast, don't you think?

Personally I hold Mr. Fowler's views more dearly than Mr. Holland's. But the record shows that more elected public officials probably embrace Mr. Holland more closely than Mr. Fowler.

There should be an element of sacrifice in public service, and usually there is. However, no office holder should be required to live as a pauper while he/she holds public office...and most of them aren't.

As in all of politics, the secret is finding the solid middle ground.

As for the senators. I find no trouble with lifting the limit altogether on outside speaking and writing earnings. If a public official is going to chisel the taxpayers, he'll find a way regardless of limits. A chiseler is a chiseler.

Marianne Means, social and political pundit, went at the problem of public service from a slightly different angle in a recent comment.

"I have this novel idea," she said. "I think that congressmen and women should step forward and volunteer to make some individual sacrifices just like all other Americans are supposed to, in order to make President Carter's new anti-inflation program work."

"If there is anything that can be singled out as galling the voters most about Congress, it's the hypocrisy of its members, who have one standard of living for themselves and another for the rest of the country."

She makes a good point, not only about members of congress but about all those who held positions of power in our society.

In my simplistic approach to economics, it seems to me that the most direct way to bring inflation under control would be to somehow stop spiraling wages and prices.

But who is willing to step forward to take the first cut?

Any labor leader who advocated that his/her members hold the line in wage demands would be hooted out of office in a hurry; any company management which advocated absorbing rising costs by shrinking or dissolving the profit margin instead of raising prices would receive the same treatment from stockholders.

The goal is our economic society, both from the union and the company, is to do just a little bit better than the last time. To verify this approach, just read the newspaper any day about prices or about union negotiations.

Yes, indeed: Who will cast the first stone?

Any volunteers?

Hal Carson, center, owner of Jim's Well Drilling, has been named the 1979 Boss of the Year by the Grayling Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. The award was presented by Deanna Bartelli, at left, Boss Night Chairman, at the chapter's annual Boss Night Meeting April 24th. Mr. Carson has a varied background. He studied drafting at Chicago Technical College and then went to work for McGills Manufacturing Co. of Valparaiso, Indiana, progressing in 13 years from draftsman to drafting supervisor to mechanical engineer, and then to supervisor of the engineering test lab.

During this time, Hal attended night school at Purdue Extension, receiving his associate degree in mechanical engineering. The opportunity to purchase Jim's Well Drilling arose in 1974; Hal spent two years in apprenticeship before becoming the owner. His education, experience and determination have helped the business to grow and gain its reputation of quality service.

Interest in aviation is an avocation for Mr. Carson. He holds a private pilot's license and aspires to receive instrument and commercial ratings. A four-year project was the building of a two-place airplane. He is a member of the Experimental Aircraft Association, having held the offices of secretary and vice-president, and serving on the board of directors. In 1970 he was voted builder of the year for his chapter. Hal was active in the Evangelical Free Church in Valparaiso and is now affiliated with the Free Methodist Church in Grayling.

Boss Night is an annual event established to honor employers of ABWA members and to familiarize employers with the educational association. Dorothea Carlson, at right, bookkeeper and secretary for Jim's Well Drilling, nominated her husband for this honor. Selection of the recipient was made by a panel of judges from outside the Grayling area.

Marty VanDeVen, wine specialist, discussed various wines. Four Italian wines were sampled, complementing the Italian dinner at the Grayling House restaurant. Judy Mesack, English teacher for the Grayling Public Schools, was the evening's vocal speaker. Her remarks on education, and her comparison of students today and in the past, were interesting and thought provoking. Mary Kelly gave a brief history of the American Business Women's Association. ABWA is dedicated to promoting the professional, educational, cultural and social advancement of business women. One of the association's most noteworthy projects is its scholarship program for women.

To the Editor:
Everyone at Crawford County Public Transit (Dial-A-Ride) would like to take this opportunity to thank the Voters of Crawford County for their support and faith in our System on April 30, 1979. With the passage of the Millage we will be able to give better service in 1980.

We would also like to thank everyone that worked so hard to see the Issue successful. It would take forever to name them all as individuals, so I will just extend a humble "Thanks To All".

MaryBeth Karl was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Peggy Walsh, Linda Klemm and Linda Warner. Best man was Paul Farson. Groomsmen were Randy Schmidt, Wayne House and Edward McCoy.

Before leaving on a Florida honeymoon, the couple greeted guests at KC 4232 Council Hall. They will live in Saginaw.

Mr. Howard D. Madsen,
Publisher,
Crawford Co. Avalanche
Grayling, Mich. 49738

Dear Mr. Madsen:
I think it is very disappointing, and distressing, that 86 percent of the qualified electors of Crawford County, as indicated in the Avalanche, for some reason or other, could not take the small amount of time it required to vote on the millage proposal for Dial-A-Ride.

What makes it more disquieting is that so many of that 86 percent are expressing voluble, disgusted, opinions on inflation, the taxes we presently pay to Federal, State, County and Township, the necessity for reductions at all levels, and of the ever increasing Governmental intrusion in our lives.

In the present case, it is noteworthy that four Townships voted the millage down, one barely passed it, and the City of Grayling and Grayling Township very predominately passed it and, in fact, determined the matter for the County at large. This to me indicates that the minus Townships do not feel that they are getting a square deal from a program they are entitled to receive adequate service from, and, as a consequence, should not pay for it. And, that the program has simply evolved into one principally for the benefit of the two angles, Grayling and Grayling Township.

Now that a specific assessment will be made on a County level, it would appear incumbent upon the present Board of Commissioners to sit down and develop a comprehensive plan of Dial-A-Ride to serve the people of all Townships on a realistic schedule basis and certainly not a 24 hour, if we can get there, basis. If we have to pay for it, we should expect it.

Yours very sincerely,
William G.F. Laurie

TWO OF THE OUTSTANDING displays at this year's Crawford County Achievement Day included the "Lucky Launchers" (top photo) and Linda Linkhart (bottom) with her Cooking Club and Achievement Day participants.

Neither rain, sleet nor snow could dampen the enthusiasm of Crawford County 4-H's who braved Saturday's fresh storm to display their projects at this year's 4-H Achievement Day. Crawford County Clubs who participated at this year's display included: Artex Decorative Painting-Dorothy Zill, Leader; Sand Crafting-Debbie Callahan, Leader; Rockets-Ron Linkhart, Leader and Donna SanCarter, Asst. The Church of Christ presented a set of cassette tapes of the New Testament-King James Version in memory of Floyd (Bud) Hall.

The library also has a 16. MM movie projector to loan on a 24 hour basis to any organization in the community. If interested call 348-9214 for more information.

Opening Party at Country Club

Once again it is time to celebrate the opening of the Grayling Country Club. May 12, 1979, we will officially "Let the Sun In," which means, of course, we can't have more snow! Our caterer, Hudson's has promised a delicious buffet complete with hors d'oeuvres. In keeping with our theme much of the decorating will be done in spring colors with some unexpected touches. Fresh potted plants will serve both as centerpieces and as gifts at the end of the evening. Cal Walls is providing our entertainment with music from the "Big Band" 40's to the present popular songs.

We are hoping, as in the past, the members will really participate not only to support the club, but also to welcome new members and renew frozen friendships. The tickets have been selling well; if you are a last-minute buyer, contact Rick Sadler, Richard Harland, Brad Sheerer or the club.

A LESSON FOR THE GROWNUPS... Members of an urban 4-H dance troupe talk about the program with State Representatives Connie Binsfeld and Ralph Ostling. Mrs. Binsfeld, Assistant Republican Leader, is chairman of the Republican Families Task Force which visited an urban 4-H site in Oakland County during volunteer week. Both Mrs. Binsfeld and Ostling, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said they will support a $1 million appropriation for the development of similar programs for low income and disadvantaged youth.

New Chrysler Dealership To Open In Our Area

Mill-Town Realty recently announced that closing has just been completed on the sale of downtown Roscommon property that will bring a Chrysler Corp. dealership to our area. Bill Denton, agent for Mill-Town, said that Alan Watson, a downstate resident, has purchased the old Ford Garage in downtown Roscommon and will be selling chryslers, plymouths and dodge trucks, with a 3-week opening date anticipated. Opening of the newly-franchised dealership will provide area residents the opportunity to purchase Chrysler products closer to home. Denton, who handled the sale of the property, said that Watson purchased the property from previous owner, Doug Allen of Roscommon.

A look at life

"Look at the red kite up there! See how high it's flying!"

The little boy follows her finger, and she is warmed and gratified by his smile of appreciation.

It seems as if mothers are eternally anxious to make sure that their children get all there is to get out of life—that they miss nothing.

Mothers would, if they could, show their children all that there is to see and give them everything—time for fun, time for play—new clothes, new toys, a television to watch cartoons, endless red kites and bright yellow balloons and, later, skis and sports cars.

Yet, in this eagerness to show and to give, aren't they in danger of overlooking some of the most important things of all? What of beauty, of serenity, of joy—the knowledge of God's goodness, His love, and familiarity with His house on earth... the Church?

Brigadoon

which were sung in the movie version of this stage success by Gene Kelly and Van Johnson.

Written by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, who are also the authors of the greatest success of the century "My Fair Lady", "Brigadoon" won the New York Critics' Circle prize as the best musical of its New York stage season and it has grown in popularity throughout the world in the intervening years.

The wistful tale told in this spell-binding musical revolves about two Americans who stumble upon a quaint Scottish village that appears on no maps. It is a community of idyllic peace where the inhabitants know no strife, and it comes to life just one day every century, and then dissolves again into the mist. It is an oasis of dreams, and the breaking of the peace by one disgruntled soul would suffice to make it disappear forever.

From this mystic and poetic bit of legend, Lerner has spun his dreamy tale of a romance between one of the twentieth century Americans and a 17th century girl who is still only 24 years old, and Loewe has composed songs that blend with the mood thus conjured up. The sparkling and joyous score has remained ever fresh, and is as full of song hits as it ever was. The daintiest of them all, "Come to Me, Bend to Me," is one of the great favorites of our time, and some of the other hits of the show are "The Heather on the Hill," "Almost Like Being in Love," "There But For You Go I," and "From This Day On." One of the funniest songs, "My Mother's Wedding Day," relates the doings of one of the most sophisticated wedding parties ever known, and "Down on McCannachy Square" is a rousing choral number. With its Scottish background the show inevitably has a number of spirited Highland Flings and other Scottish dances.

Other members of this year's musical cast are Todd Dunkley, Scott Dunkley and Alicia Taylor. The Scottish maiden around whom the story is woven is played by Lisa Montague, and her zany and flirtatious counterpart is played by Sue Prause. Do to a variety of special effects used in this show, it will be impossible to seat late comers until after the first scene.

Dear Whitey,
Enjoyed the picture of the Grayling High Girls Basketball Team's picture in the last issue of your paper received this date.

Knew several people that were on the team and I hate to be a nit picker but am disturbed that my Aunt's last name was misspelled. Her last name was spelled Bauman not Bowman. I am sure that if the last name was misspelled in 1909 that the spelling was corrected before the picture was published in anything.

The name Bauman is german and means Woodman, Treeman or Lumberman. Sometimes it was spelled with two n's at the end. There were and still are two other Bauman girls.

Sincerely,
Ralph H. Rottier

Learning experiences in many areas are the goals behind the annual balloon launch held by the second graders of Grayling Elementary Schools on Wednesday afternoon, May 2, 1979. This is the fourth year that the second graders, aided by teachers Sandy Fleming, Mary Jane Knibbs, Carole Williams, Pat Wilson and Helen Nicholas, have sent the balloons skyward in the hopes that someone will find them and write to let them know where they landed. In the past three years, second graders have received 25 responses, fifteen of them last year, when one responded the next day and another one came from as far away as Virginia showing the balloon had traveled 800 miles.

Locating on maps where they have landed gives them a lesson in geography, watching the manner and direction that the wind currents carry them gives them a lesson in science, writing the attached card and reading responses gives them a lesson in communication skills, and the fact that it is covered in the newspapers and by WWTN Channel 9, Cadillac, let's them understand that they can be a part of the news too. Not to mention the excitement and thrill of watching them go up and the suspense of waiting for an answer.

The balloons and helium were furnished by McDonald's of Grayling. To each balloon was attached a bright yellow card with a child's name and address which would be highly visible and this year, the cards were laminated in plastic, protecting them against the elements. If anyone in the Grayling area finds one of the children would also like to know that and hope you will write to them.

Sweet Adelines Activities

Mid-Mitten Chapter travelled to Grayling, Tuesday, May 1st, to sing at the Mothers and Daughters Banquet held at the Methodist Church. It was a very nice crowd and we enjoyed singing for them.

The chapter then went to the Grayling High School to have their weekly rehearsal. We are really busy working on our show which is rapidly approaching. Remember the dates...June 15 at Roscommon and June 16th at Houghton Lake. We have contracted the famous "Harmony Hounds" as our featured guest quartet.

Congratulations go to John and Susan on their new daughter, Brandyn Jayne.

Moose News

On May 2nd at 8:00 p.m. the meeting was called to order by brother Ron Eberts.

Ervin Watson was elected for Prelate and Dan Canfield was elected Treasurer.

At the meeting Art Stephenson was presented with his 25 membership certificate and he also received his 25 membership pin.

We appreciate the members that attended the meeting.

Everyone was deeply sorry to hear of the passing of Elmer Neal. Elmer held the Pilgrim Degree in the Moose Lodge and was a member of the Legion of the Moose and a member of the Eagles Club. We would like to send our condolence to Fran Neal.

All of the officers would like to see more of our members attend the meeting. So everyone will know what is going on first hand instead of getting it second hand from someone else. So please try and attend.

Don't forget we are having our Fish Fry every Friday from 5:30 p.m. until 9:00 p.m.

Bring a guest and enjoy yourself. We want to apologize to Fred Reichelderfer for not having his name in last week's paper.

Publicity Chairman,
Jim Miller

Low Ceiling Grounds Dawn Patrol

Despite the fact that inclement weather forced the cancellation of most flights into town for this past Sunday's Dawn Patrol, people from Grayling were abundant on the airstrips watching for aircraft arrivals. They were also enjoying a delicious pancake breakfast, followed by hot dogs and pop served later on.

Helicopters, undaunted by the weather conditions, lifted passengers into the air for rides designed to scan the beauty of the Crawford County area.

JOGGING TO ATLANTA—Mrs. McEvers' class is jogging to Atlanta, Georgia, as part of their studies in Social Studies class. We are in Cincinnati, Ohio, now. It takes 1020 miles to jog there. We have gone 372 miles already. We are traveling on I-75. Ten laps along our school fence would equal a mile. We are having everybody who wants to help jog as many laps as they want to. We add everybody's laps together to figure how many miles we have gone. We are sure that we are going to get to Atlanta, Georgia, before school lets out.
